Cine-tal Systems Names Glen Green Vice President of Sales

Cine-tal Systems (www.cine-tal.com), a leading manufacturer of image processing, display and collaboration solutions used in digital cinema and video production, has appointed Glen Green to the post of Vice President of Sales. Green, who has more than 30 years of experience with technology companies serving the film and video industry, will oversee the company's sales and marketing efforts throughout the United States and internationally. Green will seek to expand Cine-tal Systems' sales structure by building its internal sales team and developing its worldwide network of resellers.

Green's appointment is designed to help Cine-tal Systems keep pace with growing demand for its products and its need to manage increased sales activity. "Glen Green is a consummate professional with strong domestic and international experience and a thorough understanding of the needs of our market," said Cine-tal President and CEO Rob Carroll. "His appointment underscores our commitment to providing strong sales support to our customers. We are very pleased to welcome him to our team."

Cine-tal Systems manufactures specialized LCD display systems that support the growing number of film and television productions that are adopting digital acquisition. Its products also provide a solution to post production facilities seeking to replace outmoded CRT monitors.

Green previously served as Vice President of Sales, Americas, for Front Porch Digital, a leader in content storage management. He also served for six years as Corporate Vice President of Worldwide Sales and Marketing for communications solutions specialist Radyne Comstream (NASDAQ: RADN). Following its acquisition of Tiernan Communications, he oversaw the merger of the companies' sales teams and operations in Asia. His background also includes seven years with Quantel in varying senior sales roles, including Vice President of Sales, Central Region, and Managing Director of Southeast Asia.

In discussing his current move, Green said that he was seeking to join a young company with solid growth prospects. "Cine-tal Systems has a tremendous product and a tremendous future," he said. "It is working at the leading edge of a technology revolution that is sweeping the media industry."
